If you're moving to Australia on business for a fixed, long-term period, here's an easier, more economical alternative to bringing your belongings with you. The Essentials package from Living Edge Rental.

With the Essentials, you can rent everything you need to set up your new home. Standard or deluxe furniture in either contemporary or traditional styles (including antiques), appliances, hi fi, TV, DVD (to Australian electrical specifications), even linen, towels, dinnerware, cutlery as well as pots and pans and other utensils. All without the hassle and the inevitable delays of packing, shipping and customs clearances, while totally eliminating the stress associated with the potential loss or damage of your possessions. And in most cases, our flexible rental terms for periods of 6 months to three years are much cheaper than shipping.

Step off the plane and into your fully furnished home.

To make your transition even easier, our interior design consultants can select the furniture and other items on your behalf, collect the keys to your new home, then deliver and install. We'll even make the beds, plumb-in the washing machine and tune the TV and DVD. All you have to do is get off the plane and move straight in!

Essentials makes perfect sense.

The Essentials is a completely flexible package that allows you to choose exactly what you need and for how long. You can even start with the basics and add extra items as you need to. And because your new home can be set up from day one, you'll eliminate the cost of short-term hotel or serviced apartment accommodation. Plus, there are cashflow advantages in renting rather than buying and your rentals may even be tax deductible*.
